Planned Parenthood Clinic

Planned Parenthood strongly believes in preventive health care for all women, and in demonstrating that concern it is our policy to include a Pap (Cancer) Smear in every patient's medical services. In the near future we will be offering Pap smear clinics to make available this scr-screening process to more women.

Cancer is the second largest cause of death in the United States. Progress has been made in the detection and treatment of cancer, and in no area has this progress been more dramatic than in cancer of the Cervix. Cancer of the Cervix could become almost a completely preventable disease if women would report to a doctor or clinic regularly for an examination and Pap smear. Taking a sample or scraping of the discharge is examined for cancerous cells. A patient feels absolutely no discomfort when a Pap smear is taken by the doctor. Almost 42,000 new cases of cancer of the Cervix will be diagnosed early, and those that are detected early by means of a regular Pap smear can be treated with success.

Although we can be proud of the fact that the mortality from cancer of the Cervix has been reduced more than 50 percent in the past generation, there are still over 21 million women in the U.S. who have never had a Pap smear performed. Nearly all cancers of the Cervix can be detected early enough by means of the Pap smear to be treated successfully. At Planned Parenthood we want to do our part to see that all women have ready access to this life-saving test.

New Decor in Telephones

Trying out the Celebrity model in Pacific Northwest Bell's new Design Line series is PNB's Denise Ticeson. The Celebrity recalls an earlier phone era with its French-style handset. It is one of ten new styles offered for out-right purchase by customers.

New decorative telephones that offer a wide variety of style, color and materials have been introduced here, according to Pacific Northwest Bell division manager T.R. Haslam. Ten designs are offered to suit a variety of tastes in decorating fashions.

The Design Line* phones are room accessories designed to complement all styles of decor from colonial and French provincial to contemporary and modern. Many are suitable for offices as well as homes.

Customers buy the decorative housings outright, Haslam explained. Prices range from $45 to $115 depending upon the style. Haslam said that although the customer owns the housing, working parts of the telephone remain the property and maintenance responsibility of PNB.

Color brochures are available through PNB's business office, he said.

Final Approval to Voting Rights Act Extension

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congress has voted final approval of a bill to extend the Voting Rights Act -- the law that led to the election of more than 1,500 black public officials and the registration of 1.5 million new black voters in the South.

The extension is for seven years -- from August 6, 1975, to August 6, 1982. In June, the House of Representatives voted to extend the Act for 10 years. The Senate, however, approved a seven-year extension and returned the bill to the House on July 24. House and Senate managers of the bill said that there might not be enough time for an effort to reverse the Senate action before the August 6 expiration date, so on July 28 the House sent the bill to the White House to be signed into law.

Congressman Andrew Young voted for final passage and said:

"If anybody doubts the need to continue the Voting Rights Act, we can point to numerous violations of voting rights in the South just this summer. The battle is not over. Congress should also pass legislation designed to register all potential voters and to provide permanent protection of voting rights.

Mr. Young is the first black Congressman from Georgia in 101 years.

Under the Voting Rights bill just passed:

*Six southe5n States (Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia) and most of North Carolina are specially covered. All changes in voting laws and practices in these areas must be cleared by the federal government before they can be put into effect. Also, the Attorney General can order federal registrars and poll watchers into these areas.

*Literacy tests and other voting qualifications which have been used to deny voting rights are permanently banned throughout the nation.

*Private citizens may recover attorneys' fees when they are successful in federal suits to enforce their voting rights.

*For the first time, the Voting Rights Act covers "language minorities" -- citizens of Spanish heritage, American Indians, Asian Americans and Alaskan natives.

I SHALL PASS THIS WAY BUT ONCE THEREFORE ANY GOOD THAT I CAN DO OR ANY KINDNESS THAT I CAN SHOW LET ME DO IT NOW FOR I SHALL NOT PASS THIS WAY AGAIN.

The American-Soviet handshake in space last week marks both American and Soviet history. The president seems to consider the event a major accomplishment in international relations. The occurance is definitely a major event, however, it accomplishes absolutely nothing.

The mission simply demonstrates further the misplacement of values in this country. American government places higher value on space ventures than on the physical and mental survival of this country.

Space explorations can be partially understood. One can halfway assume that by exploring the heavens, we may find another possible habitat for man which could solve the overpopulation problem.

The recent mission was a totally unnecessary trip. Why did the U.S. and Russia have to go into space to display a handshake? A handshake itself is meaningless unless the gesture comes from the hearts of both parties.

Neither of these men had any initial desire to shake hands with members of the rival country. If this had been the case, a handshake on the ground would have been sufficient.

It is very sad to see how drastically Ford has cut funds in areas that caused layoffs and a decline in summer jobs for students and yet afford to send a space vehicle into orbit for no sensible reason.

Many people are dying mentally and physically from the pains of unemployment. Employers are laying off employees and cutting down on their services because of inflation.

More and more students are becoming unable to find summer work that would normally contribute to the family income. But Ford does not seem to be particularly concerned with that problem.

The president has also violated his philosophy on energy conservation. I am curious to know how much fuel was used to carry out this mission. If there is an energy shortage, how could he allow NASA to launch the spaceship for such a waste.

Ford has the perfect excuses for problems concerning the unemployment situation, but no excuses were made in the American-Soviet mission. It is obvious now to everyone that America values this type of space crap more than the survival of its people.

The U.S. and Russia may think they have made some great accomplishment by shaking hands in space, but no real accomplishment will be made until America is able to shake hands and make peace with all people both at home and abroad.

The government has wasted millions of dollars in this project while millions of people in this country are starving and dying from incurable diseases. Look up America! See what we've got. Coca Cola says we've got the song the world is singing. Believe me, we are truly singing the wrong song.

Centurion Playhouse To Present 'The Mousestrap'

Centurion Playhouse to open season with Agatha Christie's "Mousetrap". The Centurion Playhouse at Fort Lewis will open its 1975-76 season with Agatha Christie's play "The Mousetrap" the longest running show in the history of theatre. Playing dates are August 8,9,15,16,22,23 at the Centurion Playhouse, Bldg 5300 on the corner of Colorado Street and 9th Division Drive on Ft. Lewis.

Christie's masterpiece of suspense occurs in an English manor house outside of London, during the early 1940's. Director David Wright who has successfully directed several dramas for the Playhouse, has taken a unique approach to this production so that the obvious seems irrelevant to even the most scrutinizing mystery fans. Playgoers who normally pass the opportunity of seeing old murder mysteries will be delightfully surprised by the level of suspense that this particular play maintains.

Performances begin at 8pm and reserved seats are $3.00 for the general public, and $2.00 for military, retired military and their dependents with ID card. For reservations please phone 968-3402.

The Centurion Playhouse is an activity of the Live Theatre Section of the Music and Theatre Section of Recreation Services Division, Ft. Lewis, Wa.

LETTERS to the Editor

I've noted that the C.I.A. has received some criticism for a number of alledged murders. Believe me - I know just how you feel. I miss the good old days too. When the papers were full of saturation bombings - body counts - defoliation and massacre - women and children raped and burned - you're just going to have to face the facts, though - you're drunken - blind - greed - crazed rapist paternal authority dumped its resources and you're just going to have to get used to more subtle forms of genocide. Take the ambulance sirens - for instance - the ones that fluctuate between very high and very low pitch - they stimulate certain glands in your system which regulate growth patterns - they upset the body functions so you're friendly doctor can sell you a pill to ease your tension.

Or perhaps you don't feel a thing - be patient - your body will struggle for control - depending on your own metabolic rates but you'll eventually feel it. Unless of course you are fortunate enough to be one of those who dictate the agony of the poor from well insulated places.

Something To Think About

BY Barbara Henderson

Money can be a good thing if used correctly and efficiently. People are worried too much about their desires and not their needs. They purchase things that are pointless and unnecessary. Some people do with a rubberband budget - stretching every dollar until it breaks.

Money is a much valued thing - it buys our food and clothes. It is not something to be played with, like a toy, but yet, some people do play with it, like gambling - taking chances is not a very smart thing to do. Some people love money like they love their sister or brother, they will do anything for it. They get so hard up for it that they would sell themselves. That's pathetic! Money is a material thing and should never be compared to a person, because a human, hopefully has more value than an object. Money can cause family disputes and lots of confusion. To make lots of money is some peoples' goal in life. To others money is nothing. To struggling families it is the essence of survival. Money can be beneficial if put to good use. I see money as a good thing to have when needed, but when it comes to pleasure, try not to get entangled in it's evils. FOR THE LOVE MONEY*$$$.

Black Businessman of the Week

The Black Businessmen's Association is proud to present their choice for Black Businessman of the Week of August 3, 1975. He is Rev. Ivory Crittendon, 44, of 3522 Pioneer Way who owns Ivory's Auto Rebuild, located at South 23rd and Kay Streets.

Rev. Crittendon has organized his business so that its human-oriented, recognizing the needs of the needy and underprivileged.

He's a native of Austin, Texas and was first stationed at Ft. Lewis in 1948. He's married and has 14 children. In his off-duty hours he pastors the Brotherhood Church of God at 1620 South Adams.

He has financed himself largely through growth. He was trained in body and fender repair at the Tacoma Vocational School, where he graduated in 1958. In 1959 he went into business for himself at South 23rd and Jefferson. In 1969 he bought the old location of Kay Parks Auto Body on South 9th and "I" and outgrew that facility. In June of 1974 he moved to his present location.

The name of the firm is really a misnomer, because in addition to repairing wrecked and damaged automobiles they also do tune ups, complete brake jobs, install upholstery, replace glass, repair radiators and straighten frames and axels.

His shop has such sophisticated pieces of equipment as an enamel bake oven, frame straighteners, and Porta-Power tools that straighten tops, as well as arc and electric welders.

He currently employs 8 people, including a "body girl", who he says is doing a fantastic job of fixing cars.

He says he'd like to see fathers and mothers train their children in the home to work for a living. He currently employs three of his sons. Each was sent to college for two years to gain expertise and one is a mechanic. So far he estimates he's trained 48 prisoners, 20 delinquent boys and 7 underprivileged girls. One day he hopes to establish a chain of shops in which many more underprivileged can be given accredited vocational training.

AMERICAN SOCIETY
YOUR LIFE INSURANCE

Prepared by the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the national society of life insurance professionals who have earned the C.L.U. designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. My neighbor is one guy I envy. He's a screenwriter. One year he sells a screenplay for a lot of money and for the next four years he lives off the proceeds. Sometimes he even goes into debt before selling another.

Now, he carries enough life insurance, but what happens if he dies at a time when he's in debt? Wouldn't his wife have to give some of the insurance money to pay off his creditors?

A. Not necessarily. His wife, the beneficiary, would be protected from the claims of her husband's creditors. Furthermore, in most states the law permits you to also include in the settlement arrangements a so-called "spendthrift clause" which protects your beneficiaries from the claims of their own creditors as well.

This means that the beneficiaries cannot assign, commute or encumber the proceeds of your life insurance, when left with the company, to satisfy the claims of their own creditors. This protects them from loss of funds through unfortunate business or financial transactions.

It's Important To Know The Facts!

Thinking Out Loud

by Edna Jackson

ON GRUMBLING, MUMBLING - AND NOTHING

I just read an article which said that the decaffeninated coffee which I decided to buy a little while ago probably contained trichloroethylene, a carcinogen (cancer) suspect. Will I drink it? Probably not because I would be thinking about that as I dipped up a teaspoonful and it's easy not to use decaffeninated coffee. I also read that the plastic wrap covering the meat in the supermarket contains the carcinogen suspect polyvinyl chloride. Seemingly no research has been done into how much of this chloride could seep into the meat. Will I attempt to mount a campaign to have research done on whether or not the meats which I buy are affected by this plastic wrap? Probably not, which is why I say grumble, mumble - nothing. Meaning, we all grumble, mumble and complain about life, pollution, the government, taxes and prices but we do nothing about them. I won't work to see that carcinogen suspects are removed from my foods and my water supply and neither will the majority of other persons. It's so easy to complain to one another but it takes work to get up and do something about it. Is it surprising that we've been in a gas squeeze (mutter, mutter!) bread squeeze, beef squeeze, sugar squeeze and now another gas squeeze? No. Too busy acquiring; too busy making a buck; too busy living; too busy talking and the squeezes get tighter. What am I going to do about the suspected carcinogens in my water supply, in my coffee, in my meat, in my luminous dial clock? Probably nothing unless some energetic person starts a campaign. What is everybody else going to do? Probably nothing - just like everybody else.

The Latest From Malcolm X

We didn't run as far as we should have loked to in the Sports Jamboree that was held July 24th, 1975 at Jefferson Park. But Malcolm X youth did bring home something to let other Parks know we were there.

One of our young men won 1st prize in the ping pong contest, and one of our young ladies won 2nd prize. The young men's basketball team won 3rd place and a couple of our youth won sports awards. Right on Malcolm X youth!

Hey! Did you know that, or had you forgot, that Mr. Robert Joyce the artist from the "Tacoma Artist Corps" has been working daily here at the Malcolm X Center on his latest design? He's doing an outstanding and most beautiful job.

There will be a dedication of the - "Education, The Key To Understanding" original mural designed and executed by Mr. Robert Joyce, Friday, August 15, 1975 at one o'clock in the afternoon here at the Malcolm X Center, 17th and South K St. Hey kids! Our next field trip is to Woodland Park August 6, 1975, leaving 10:00 am. Don't be late.

Miss 'Super Soul' to Appear on 'The Midnight Special'

Twelve time Grammy Award winner, Aretha Franklin, will be honored on "Rock Salute," Friday, August 15 on Burt Sugarman's "The Midnight Special" on NBC - TV. The 20 minute tribute to the Atlantic Records recording star, is the longest and most complete salute that has been scheduled on the series to date. Aretha's career as the "first lady of soul" will be outlined through the use of film, slides and music. As part of the "Rock Salute," Ms. Franklin talks about her career and performs "Without The One You Love," the first song she wrote, "Brand New Me," "Canadian Sunset" and a duet with the "king of soul," Ray Charles.

In addition to the salute to Aretha Franklin, this episode of "The Midnight Special" features Glen Campbell performing his current hit, "Rhinestone Cowboy," plus Jimmy Walker of "Good Times," Uriah Heep and Gwen McCrae.

Helen Reddy is permanent host of "The Midnight Special" for executive producer, Burt Sugarman. Stan Harris is producer-director of the series, which airs every Friday following "The Tonight Show."

29 Graduate at Camp Murray

Gregory Lind Taylor is studying cinematography at the University of Washington. He will be assigned to the 122nd Public Information Deta achment at Camp Murray following his graduation and commissioning as a second lieutenant.

Taylor will be an assistant radio-television officer in the information detachment.

CAMP MURRAY--Shiny new gold bars were presented Saturday to 29 graduates of the Army National Guard's Washington Military Academy, making them second lieutenants in the Guard and the Army Reserves.

One of the graduates in this year's class was the first woman ever to earn a commission through the Academy.

The graduates will be assigned to various National Guard units around the state, and they will serve as small unit leaders and staff officers.

The Washington Army National Guard has more than 40 company sized and larger units located in 33 Washington communities.

Graduation marks the end of a year-long effort by cadets. During that time attended two summer camps of two weeks' duration, and spent one weekend a month at the Academy.

They were educated in the basics of military life, were schooled in small unit tactics and were given leadership training they will need as officers.

The Washington Military Academy, which was founded in 1957, ranks as one of the top three state run officer candidate schools in the nation.

Its curriculum is provided by the Army Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Georgia.
